

THE DAILY BULLETIN.
MONDAY EVE., APRIL 21, 1884

This Oregon Democrat has declared for Tilden and Hendricks.

The Tennessee republicans have endorsed Arthur but send an unqualified delegation to Chicago. Judge Frank T. Reid, of Nashville, an ex-Confederate, was nominated for Governor.

The Chicago News says: The papers express surprise that two Kentucky sheriffs should fight for possession of a prisoner for whom $50 reward was offered. It is not at all surprising. A Kentuckian would not fight only for $50; he'd give $50 to fight.

The following bill which gives the labor of citizens to a corporation has become a law by reason of the Governor not returning it to the House in which it originated with his objections within the ten days prescribed by the constitution. The Governor declined to sign the bill because he believed that the Legislature transcended its powers:

An act for the benefit of the Mount Gilman and Lewisburg Turnpike Road Company in this State.

1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That all persons owning, leasing, or holding any interest in the use of the Mount Gilman and Lewisburg Turnpike Road, shall, on or before the first day of January, 1885, and be called out by the president or directors of said road, for the purpose of assessing said turnpike, at the same time and in the same manner, and be governed by the general laws now in force for working county roads.

2. That said turnpike shall take effect from its passage.

CHARLES OFFICE.

JAMES H. HINDMAN, Speaker of the Senate.

As effort is to be made this week in Congress to pass a bill to regulate the granting of pensions in certain cases. It allows every person specified in the classes enumerated in the pension laws who served in the military or naval service in any war in which the United States has been engaged for three months or more, and who is not receiving a pension, or a greater pension than the bill provides for, and who suffers from disability or disease which there is probable cause to believe was incurred while in the service, or other known cause occurring since such service, shall, upon due proof, be placed upon the list of pensioners, to receive a pension during the continuance of disability at a rate proportionate to the degree thereof. Persons who have applied for pensions under the act of July 14, 1862, and amendment acts entitling them to arrears may elect to prosecute claims under the act proposed. In establishing the claim of dependent parents it is only to be necessary to show that the parent was injured or disabled by the service, and that the dependent parents are unable to support themselves by their own labor, or the contribution of other persons under the act who show by recent evidence that they were regularly enlisted and mustered into the service and served three months or to be regarded as having furnished evidence of good health at the time of enlistment.

WHEAT CROP PROSPECTS.

General Review of the Condition of That Cereal.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 21.—The Times this morning prints a comprehensive report by counties, embracing the winter and spring wheat belts of Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Iowa, Nebraska, Dakota, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Missouri. Generally speaking, winter wheat not winter killed is now doing well, but spring wheat prospects are not cheering. Owing to the continued wet and disagreeable weather in seven counties of Illinois winter wheat was extensively killed by the freezing weather, and a number of fields have been sown up, and the prospects are not good for more than a half crop.

In the remaining counties, and particularly the upper tier, better reports are received, and a full average crop is predicted. In Central and Southern Missouri winter wheat shows the effect of winter killing, but the coming crop promises about 85 per cent. of the average for the entire State. In Northern Indiana there is now a promise of 60 per cent. of the average crop. In the central portion 70 per cent., and in the southern portion 85, which is about the relative condition of the crop in April, 1884.

In Kansas there is increased acreage and no material damage reported by frost. In Michigan 75 per cent. and in Iowa last year. An average crop is expected. Dakota shows heavily increased acreage, but the weather the last two weeks has been unfavorable for spring seeding. Increased acreage is predicted for Minnesota, but much is delayed. Wisconsin shows a marked falling off in acreage and the season is delayed.

EVOLUTION.

What Dr. McCosh Says of Henry Ward Beecher.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 21.—In the course of an interview to-day President McCosh, of Princeton College, was addressed as follows: "Henry Ward Beecher claims that you are a believer in the theory of evolution as connected with religion. Is it true, or not?" "I have read his report," replied, with quiet emphasis, "I believe in the physical theory of evolution certainly, in the growth of the oak from the acorn and the law of heredity in the generation of the human race. I believe that the fittest will survive, as Herbert Spencer affirms. But Mr. Beecher's position, by claiming that a representative Presbyterian is evolutionist, is to pledge me as a believer in his religious theories. He has neither reason nor warrant. I don't believe Beecher has any theology, and what little he has I don't believe in. I hold to evolution as a scientific deduction perfectly consistent with the sacred scriptures and as fortifying their divine authority."

A LIVELY TIME.

A Professor Tells What the People Have a Right to Expect in Seven Short Years.

A prominent minister's wife, who has been reading ever since the Centennial Journal some predictions made five years ago by Prof. Grenier, as follows: "From 1880 to 1887 will be a period of universal distress. Asia will be depopulated; Europe nearly so; America will lose 15,000,000 of people. Besides plagues, we are to have storms and tidal waves; mountains are to toss their heads through the choicest valleys; navigators will be lost by thousands, owing to the capricious deflexures of the magnetic needle, and islands will appear and disappear in mid ocean. Five birds, birds and fishes will be diseased; famine and civil strife will destroy most of the human beings left alive by plague, and finally two years of fire—from 1885 to 1887—will rage with fury in every part of the globe. In 1887 the Star of Bethlehem will reappear in the constellation of the chair, the immediate result being universal war and portentous floods and shipwrecks. No American is equal to be involved in civil war unless a Napoleon arises to quell it, but during these terrible days the Pacific States will be a perfect paradise of peace compared with the hellish strife that will be waging throughout the world. The few people that may manage to survive till 1887 will have reason to be thankful."

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED.

BATH, Me., April 21.—Eldridge Randall, of Topsham, died April 10, leaving a large estate in this city and Topsham. On petition of the selectmen and citizens of Bath, the will was annulled. A thorough examination will be made. There are strong suspicions that death was hastened by other than natural causes.

THE DAILY BULLETIN.

MONDAY EVE., APRIL 21, 1884.

BOSSER & MCCARTHY
Publishers and Proprietors,
To Whom Address All Communications

Eleven o'clock, the hour you meet,
Is fixed because, you know,
That afternoon, you'll want to go
And see Sells Brothers show.

HENT & DOYLE's new show window is attracting much attention.

GEORGE GATES has sold his barber shop to Charles J. Anderson.

The Sunday Morning Call remarks about the Georgia story are so good, it should by all means give us the story itself.

ATTENTION is directed to the announcements made by J. C. Pecor & Co., druggists and booksellers, in another column to-day.

SPRING was called away suddenly on Sunday night and has not yet returned.
In point of reliability the impression is growing that she is a fraud.

DR. A. GOLDSTEIN, the well-known oculist, is in the city and will remain for several days. He can be consulted by those who wish glasses fitted to their eyes at his rooms at Miss Nancy Wilson's, corner of South and Third streets.

The indignant people of Mr. Sterling have hanged in effigy Cornelius, the man who made the brutal and cowardly assault on Judge Reid, but we have not yet heard that Cornelius has been cited to appear before the police court to answer for his crime.

The attention of all Democrats of Mason County is called to the notice of the chairman, Judge Wall, that the meeting to select ten delegates to the State convention, is called for eleven o'clock a. m., on Saturday, April 20. The object of holding the meeting at 11 a. m. is to enable the democracy to attend the circus at two p. m.

It is no wonder that children refuse to take the nauseous remedies generally administered as worm medicine. It is a cruel, heathen punishment to give it to them when Willie's World Worm Candy can be had at the nearest drug store.
They never refuse to take that as it resembles the ordinary stick candy, and is free from taste of medicine.

Horse Steals.

A valuable pacing horse belonging to Mr. Henry Chenoweth was stolen from his stable some time late on Saturday night. The animal was about sixteen hands high, with heavy mane and tail, four white feet and some scratches on the right flank made by a barbed wire fence.
A reward of $50 has been offered for the apprehension of the thief and the recovery of the horse.

PERSONALS.

Mr. Hiram T. Pearce, of Cincinnati, is in the city.

Mr. James Hedlin is in the city. He is looking unusually well.

Mr. A. R. Peice, returned on Sunday from a visit to Peoria, Ill.

Mrs. Garrett S. Wall and daughter, Miss Ethelene, leave for Cincinnati on the Baltimore this evening.

Miss Carrie Davis, daughter of Mr. M.
Davis, has returned home after a pleasant visit to friends at Baltimore.

Mr. Wm. Collins, of Johnson Station, and Miss Sallie Small, of Aberdeen, daughter of Capt. Small, will be united in marriage at St. Patrick's Church, tomorrow morning at eight o'clock.

Sells Brothers' Show.

The circus was the all-absorbing topic of conversation yesterday, and the streets were crowded all day by people from the country and neighboring towns, who had come to the city to see the big show.
The street parade in the morning was an excellent display, the wagons and chariots being artistically painted and the animals in open cages; a band of Indians and a callopie, and a score of elephants and camels adding to the general interest. The afternoon performance crowded the tent, all the seats being filled. The display of animals was excellent, the principal attractions being an immense herd of elephants, two immense hippopotami, a two-horned rhinoceros, a number of sea lions, and the usual complements of tigers, hyenas and lions.
The animals were particularly clean and well kept. The ring performance was one of the best ever given in this city. Last night the jam was simply awful, and before eight o'clock the management was obliged to close the doors, fully 1,500 people being turned away. To the credit of Sells Brothers it can be said that their show proved so attractive and popular that they had to turn people away in Indianapolis. They have a good show and richly deserve the patronage they receive.

COUNTY POINTS.

TUCKAHOE.

Mrs. H. Wallcut improves very slowly.
There is a great deal of sickness in the neighborhood.

Miss Lizzie Pickett, of Frankfort, is visiting the family of W. C. Holton.

Miss Sue, daughter of J. C. Pickett, is still suffering with rheumatism.

Samuel N. Remot who has been quite sick for the past week is gradually improving.

Miss Sallie Holton has for the last few days been suffering very much with a severe cold.

James Hagerty, the Tuckaehoe merchant, has received a nice lot of spring goods.

Mrs. Gertrude DeBorne, who attends school in Mayville, spent Saturday and Sunday with her mother.

William Lewis who has been living in the treatment of Dr. C. S. Holton, has recovered and is looking remarkably well.

Mrs. James Reynolds and her daughter of Troy, after spending a few days with Mrs.
B. B. Bacon, have returned home.

Allice "Jenny" ask a question: Why has the "mud man" whose brilliant rays have been seen in every nook and corner of Mason County ceased to shed his "dazzling light"? Has it set over, or is it only waiting for a time by the shadow of the Earth?

JENKS.

Sales of Personal Property—Remedies of Seller.
Wells vs. Mailey.

Filed April 16, 1884. Appeal from Mason Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge Bowen, affirming.

First—Whether a given transaction in regard to a special chattel is a bargain and sale, or only a loan, or a mere transfer, or only an agreement to sell and deliver, on the one part, and to buy and accept on the other, is a question of intention.

Second—Where, by the agreement, the vendor is to do anything to the goods to put them into a desirable state, or anything remains to be done to them for the purpose of ascertaining the price, as where the price is to depend on quality or quantity, the performance of these things, in the absence of circumstances indicating a contrary intention, is a condition precedent to the vesting of the property.

Third—A contract, deemed executory when made because something remains to be done by the vendor, is regarded as executed when the vendor has done all he was bound to do.

Fourth—Where the property does not vest, the only action which the seller has against the buyer for the breach of his promise to buy and pay, is for damages for non-acceptance, and not for the full price of the goods as such.

Fifth—The damages which the seller may recover of the buyer for the breach of his contract, is, in general, "the difference between the contract price and the market price of such goods at the time when the contract is broken," but when the goods have no market price or value, the measure of damages should be the price agreed to be paid.

Sixth—When the vendor is ready and willing to do what the thing is the place agreed on and offers to deliver it there, and the vendee refuses him not to deliver it, and that he will not accept or receive it, the vendor is excused from delivering it elsewhere than at the place where it is. He may then treat it as his own property, and recover the difference between its market value and the agreed price, or he may treat it as the vendee's property and do as he pleases with it, and recover the deficit, or may set the thing apart as the vendee's property, subject to his order, and recover the price.

In this case the seller of tobacco having done all that was necessary to pass the title, except to deliver it, the offer to deliver and refusal to accept gave him the right to set the tobacco apart where it was as the property of the buyer and to recover the contract price.

Seventh—One who makes a contract the name of another, claiming to be authorized by him to do so, is personally liable to perform the contract if he had no authority to make it for the other.

G. W. Adair, Campbell & Worthington for appellant; Whitaker and Robertson for appellee.

Ugly Gaps

In that row which of all others should be best in thorough repair, a row of teeth, are sure to occur and no less sure to occur and no less sure to be hoplessly disfigure the face if disregard of the teeth's cleanness is persistent. But if the error is corrected in time with the aid of Sodontan, America's leading tooth beautifier and invigorant, the tenants of the month long retain their strength and whiteness unimpaired. A word to the wise is sufficient.

A Cure of Pneumonia.

Mr. D. H. Barnaby, of Oswego, N. Y., says that his daughter was taken with a violent cold which terminated with pneumonia, and all the best physicians gave the case up and said she could live but a few hours at most. She was in this condition when a friend recommended Dr. William Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and advised her to try it. She accepted it as a last resort, and was surprised to find that it produced a marked change for the better, and by persevering a permanent cure was effected.

A PANIC IN A THEATRE

Ridiculous Cause of a Very Serious Danger.

A Drunken Man Replies to a Question and Sets a Crowded House in Violent Agitation—Wild Excitement.

New York, April 21.—A panic occurred last evening in Haverly's Brooklyn Theatre, which at one time threatened to produce very serious results. The house was crowded at a performance of the Roman Rye. In the cellar scene of the fifth act are the lines "What is there?" A deep stillness reigned in the house as Mr. Haverly, who personated Hearn, uttered the words. From the crowded gallery came a loud guttural "I," which descended like a cry of fire. The noise came from a drunken man who had suddenly been aroused from sleep. A number of people near the door of the gallery clattered down stairs and the noise thus made started a panic all over the theatre. The panic seemed to reach every part of the house at the same time. Men and women rushed frantically from the front seats and stumbled over those who had already started. A terrified cry rang through the house. When the panic was at its height and women were fainting on every side, two stentorian voices were raised and one came from Manager M. C. Cornell, standing at the footlights, who called out that there was no fire. Just at this time the lowering form of a policeman advancing down the center aisle attracted the attention of the affrighted people. The officer in a voice that sounded like a trumpet announced that the trouble was caused by a drunken man and there was no fire. Both announcements had the desired effect and the panic subsided almost as quickly as it had arisen.

Many people had their clothes torn, and in the first struggle to get out several men and women received slight injuries. The man who created the panic was locked up.

THE POCAHONTAS HORROR.

The Last of the Bodies Being Removed.

POCAHONTAS, Va., April 21.—Twenty bodies were taken out of the mine yesterday, nine of which were identified notwithstanding their decomposed condition. Martin Kippen, a German, was identified by an envelope in his pocket which bore his name Peter Huniss, a Hungarian, was identified by his clothing; a Hungarian named Kishlager by a pair of boots; John Kay by his pay checks and the location in which he was found; John Kishlager by a Hungarian recognized by his brother; Edward Mitchell, an American, was identified by a pair of red drawers which he carried with him. It was supposed the latter body had been brought out some time ago, but his sisters knew some parts of his clothing. These will not be recovered until the mine is cleared out, and it is thought that there are some who will never be found. All but three of the bodies have been buried near the scene of the explosion in a burying ground selected and allotted as their last resting place by the owners of the mine. The managers of the mine announce that they will resume operations in a few days.

NEWS MONOPOLY SCHEME.

Defeat of the Waterson Bill in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The News Copyright Bill is defeated. This well known scheme of the large city dailies to organize a news monopoly for the purpose of shutting out the country press, was defeated by Henry Waterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, and was pushed by him and a few others who were prominent in the scheme with considerable vigor. The sentiment of the country, as manifested in innumerable petitions against the measure, was so strong that its fate has long been regarded as sealed. This has been confirmed by Senator Sherman's adverse opinion rendered unanimously against the bill just laid before the Senate. The measure has gone to join the list of the defeated schemes of the present session.

Newspaper to be Sold at Auction.

PITTSBURGH, April 21.—It is stated that Colonel Robert F. Nevins, editor and proprietor of the Pittsburgh Times, has finally decided to dispose of his paper at public auction on the morning of April 29. Rumors of contemplated change of the ownership of this journal have been frequent of late, but it was not until Saturday that Mr. Nevins would give any intimation that it was his desire or intention to retire. This action on his part was brought about by the earnest solicitation of personal friends on account of the failing health of the old gentleman. The Times has been in existence a little over four years.

Murdered in Mexico.

GALVESTON, Tex., April 21.—Two Italians, dressed in the garb of Turks, who have been selling beads work, left a day or so ago on foot for the City of Mexico. After passing Reno, on the line of the Mexican National Railway, two hundred miles from Laredo, they were attacked and the one who carried the money was lashed around the neck, jerked down a precipice and instantly killed. His companion escaped by running. The murderers are reported to have been captured and turned over to the authorities.

What the Doctor Says.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 21.—Dr. Coss, the Chicago doctor, who is at present in this city, denies that there is any truth in the statement made by Kelleet, a Montreal despatch, regarding himself. He says he has no connection with dynamites, but started on the joke when some parties accused him of having a knowledge of dynamites.

Collapse of Snow Sheds.

CHICAGO, Neb., April 21.—Three hundred feet of snow which fell last night, half a mile west of Summit, and covered the working train and a number of Chinese. Six dead Chinese have been taken out. Five others were seriously wounded. A wrecking train and medical aid has gone to the scene of disaster.
